

I live with my mum, dad and grandma. My grandma looks after me when Mum and Dad are at work. Grandma is old — she was born in 1949. When she was a child, she lived in a small hut. Here's a photo. The toilet was outside! Now we live in a flat on the 35th floor. The toilet is inside. Thank goodness!

Grandma and I went to the supermarket today. When Grandma was young, there were no supermarkets. Everybody bought food at the market. Grandma says all the food was fresher and tastier. She also enjoyed chatting with her friends at the market. No school today — it's a school holiday. It rained all day and I couldn't play outside. Grandma told me when she was little, some children never went to school. Grandma says she was lucky because she went to school. I think she's right! Today I watched DVDs and played electronic games. Grandma doesn't like them. She thinks they are bad for my eyes. When she was young, there were no DVD players and nobody had electronic games. In those days Grandma and her friends played hopscotch and hide-and-seek in the street. I sometimes play these games with Winnie and Sam in the school playground too. Grandma says life was better when she was young. I think life is better now. What do you think? I live with my mum, dad and grandma. My grandma looks after me when

I live with my mum, dad and grandma. My grandma looks after me when Mum and Dad are at work. Grandma is old—she was born in 1949. When she was a child, she lived in a small hut. Here's a photo. The toilet was outside! Now we live in a flat on the 35th floor. The toilet is inside. Thank goodness! Grandma and I went to the supermarket today. When Grandma was young, there were no supermarkets. Everybody bought food at the market.

Grandma says all the food was fresher and tastier. She also enjoyed chatting with her friends at the market. No school today—it's a school holiday. It rained all day and I couldn't play outside. Grandma told me when she was little, some children never went to school. Grandma says she was lucky because she went to school. I think she's right! Today I watched DVDs and played electronic games. Grandma doesn't like them. She thinks they are bad for my eyes. When she was young, there were no DVD players and nobody had electronic games. In those days Grandma and her friends played hopscotch and hide-and-seek in the street. I sometimes play these games with Winnie and Sam in the school playground too. Grandma says life was better when she was young. I think life is better now. What do you think? I live with my mum, dad and grandma. My grandma looks after me when Mum and Dad are at work. Grandma is old—she was

4A Penmanship Competition

Lau Hoi Kiu(13)

I live with my mum, dad and grandma. My grandma looks after me when Mum and Dad are at work. Grandma is old — she was born in 1949. When she was a child, she lived in a small hut. Here's a photo. The toilet was outside! Now we live in a flat on the 35th floor. The toilet is inside. Thank goodness! Grandma and I went to the supermarket today. When Grandma was young, there were no supermarkets. Everybody bought food at the market. Grandma says all the food was fresher and tastier. She also enjoyed chatting with her friends at the market.

No school today — it's a school holiday. It rained all day and I couldn't play outside. Grandma told me when she was little, some children never went to school. Grandma says she was lucky because she went to school. I think she's right!

Today I watched DVDs and played electronic games. Grandma doesn't like them. She thinks they are bad for my eyes. When she was young, there were no DVD players and nobody had electronic games. In those days Grandma and her friends played hopscotch and hide-and-seek in the street. I sometimes play these games with Winnie and Sam in the school playground too. Grandma says life was better when she was young. I think life is better now. What do you think? I live with my mum, dad and Grandma. My Grandma